George M.!

M! FOR MARVELOUS ENTERTAINMENT

Out of an innocent and leisurely past, the student actors of Old Rochester revitalized the fastest paced show ever to be displayed in Bristol auditorium. Capacity audiences on both Friday and Saturday were entertained royally as George M. Cohan, his family and friends, were depicted by a talented group. These actors and actresses, much too young to remember him, did George M. great tribute in this performance. George M. was one of the major talents of American musical comedy. He excelled as a performer, writer, songsmith, dancer and director. Stephen Searle played George M. in believable style. In this title role, he was continually on the stage and gave a virtuoso performance. He projected the brash personality, the talent and great range of the original so that the spirit of George M. himself may well have joined the applause. George M. would have loved this performance and that of David Sullivan who portrayed Jerry Cohan, his father. David hoofed and sang like an old pro and, in the story line, established the strong bond of affection that made the Cohans a family team for most of their professional life. Those who have hardly heard of Cohan have heard the phrase, "My Mother thanks you, my Father thanks you, my Sister thanks you and I thank you". Mother was played by Nancy Sylvestri and Josie, his sister, by Holly Gifford. Both projected charm and talent. The quartet sang and danced through the songs written by George M. Cohan. The list of these melodies reads like a hit parade of the era. The four "Cohans" made these songs a feast for the eye and ear. Sue Wing made it a quintet as she played George's first wife. She accomplished a fine portrayal of this girl who, neglected in the vortex of the whirl of show business created by George M., finally gives up an uneven contest and walks out of his life. Linda Perry, as Agnes Nolan his second wife, was another bright personality. She sang "Billie" in delightful fashion.

It's the day we've been waiting for.

THE INTERBANK CARD

Production director and choreographer Nancylee Gaucher, who accomplished a superb job with this production, appeared at curtain time to express her pride in the young people who acted in the show, designed the sets and designed the costumes. She said that this show was a product of the students as never before. Stephen Searle extended, to her, thanks from all of the cast for her untiring effort and talent which made the show possible.

Music director was Mr. Gary Thomas, assisted by Mrs. Thelma Ostenfeld.

The audience left Bristol Auditorium with a happy heart and a grand old song running in his or her head. The longest part of the entire evening was the intermission.

"George M." was a man who felt his heart sing when he saw the ripple of the flag. Now, decades later, a new and idealistic generation personified in this O.R. cast revitalized the words he put on paper and recreated the stir so that it sprang in hundreds of chests. Bravo for a legendary talent and a great interpretation which made it live again. D.C.J.

Mattapoisett Grange

Mattapoisett Grange will hold its meeting this Thursday night, March 5th. The worthy overseer, Otto Kellish, is in charge of the program. Gail Roberts and Katherine Buckley are in charge of the refreshments.

Members are asked to bring in articles for the Rummage Sale being held Saturday, March 7th in the Grange Hall from 9 A.M. to 1 P.M. The hall will be open Friday at 1 P.M. to receive donations.

Another ways and means project is a penny sale at the March 5th meeting by the Home and Community Service Committee group.

BOOSTERS CLUB MEETING

The monthly business meeting of the O.R.R. Boosters All-Sports Club will be held Thursday, March 5th, at 8:00 P.M. in the school cafeteria.

Ticket returns must be made by all members at this meeting. It is also hoped that those "inactive" Bulldog Boosters in Marion, Rochester and Mattapoisett will "activate" themselves this month!

AUCOOT COVE TO OPEN FOR SHELLFISHING

Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen voted at last week's meeting to open Aucoot Cove for the taking of shellfish beginning March 15th.

O.R. Honor Society

STUDENTS ENTER HONOR SOCIETY

On February 11, 1970, an assembly was held in the Gilbert D. Bristol auditorium of the Old Rochester Regional High School, when 23 new members were inducted into the Old Rochester Chapter of the National Honor Society. The assembly was conducted by Miss Amy Pablo, president of the Society. Assisting Miss Pablo were Miss Susannah Davis, Miss Kriselyn Goodenough, Miss Karen Burrell, Miss Teresa Ilsley and Mr. Brian Roderick. Miss Christine Hayward sang appropriate musical selections throughout the assembly. A brief address on the Society's purpose and ideals was given by Mr. Jean Berard, the Adviser, and the closing remarks were presented by Mr. Frank P. Gifune, Jr., the principal of the school. The new members inducted were: Stephen Goetz, Geraldine Lammi, Paula Leconte, David Roberts and Stephen Searle, seniors; Barbara Archer, Sharon Brownell, Marjorie Burnett, Peter Chace, Gail Chase, Linda Delano, Janet Dorr, Sarah Flanders, Janel Gaucher, Gene Gaspar, Christine Gaumont, Robert Marso, Jr., Ruth Rebello, Pamela Ryder, Christian Saether, Richard Smith, Joan Sundblad and Susan Whalen, juniors.

A reception was held in the high school library immediately after the assembly for the members of the Honor Society and the parents of the new inductees.

Talent Galore Friday!

A Talent Show is planned for Friday, March 6th, at the Old Rochester Regional High School.

Over twenty acts will be competing for a grand prize of $75.00, a second prize of $35.00 and a third prize of $15.00. Included in a wide range of talent are piano, marimba and trumpet solos, rock groups, surf sounds, dramatic readings, acrobatic tumbling, folk singing and a variety of other acts. All performers are either students in the junior or senior high school.

Masters of ceremony for the evening are Richard Rodericks and Domingo Pina. Judges include representatives of the school administration, the school music department and students from each of the six grade levels.

Tickets will be sold at the door or they may be purchased at Tinkham's Pharmacy, Mattapoisett. The show will start at 8:00 P.M.

Pinewood Derby

Eric Lawrence's bright yellow racer with black racing stripe came from out of nowhere Sunday to win the Mattapoisett Cub Scout Pack 53 Pinewood Derby at the Center School.

The little car failed to place in competition by individual dens but turned on the speed in the grand finale race-off to take the first place trophy.

Eric Saether finished second and David Dionne was third. There were 33 entries. Trophies to the first three finishers in the grand finale and ribbons to the first three finishers in each den will be presented at the Blue and Gold banquet in April.

Winners in the den competition follow:

Den 1, Peter Jensen, first; James Broadwater, second; John Langlois, third; Den

World Day of Prayer

Parishioners of all four Marion churches will join millions of people on March 6, 1970, in a bond of prayer spanning six continents. On that day prayers will be offered in seventy-five languages and a thousand dialects. World Day of Prayer is sponsored in the United States by Church Women United and will be celebrated in 25,000 communities.

Here in Marion the churches invite all to join this worldwide fellowship at 8 P.M. at the United Methodist Church on County Road. Participating in the celebration will be a children's choir and an adult choir, as well as Mr. Roger Whalen playing a trumpet solo. Guest speaker will be Dr. Francis Whiting of the First Baptist Church of Stoneham, Massachusetts. Dr. Whiting is well-known for his interest in ecumenical groups. Local women planning for this event are Mrs. Paul Maker, Mrs. Ernest Ross and Mrs. Earle Luscome, of the United Methodist Church; Mrs. Robert Lowery and Mrs. Jessie Chase of the Congregational Church; Mrs. Richard Harlow and Mrs. Brad Dawson of St. Gabriel's Episcopal Church; and Mrs. Robert O'Brien and Mrs. William McLaughlin of St. Rita's Roman Catholic Church.

This annual chain of prayer links the first voice at dawn in the tropical Tongas, just west of the International Date Line, with millions of others as it passes throughout the Day across oceans and continents. By nightfall, its message of hope will have followed the sun's arc until the last prayers are said in units of Church Women United in Hawaii and the islands of Alaska.

The theme, "Take Courage" - "Moet Houden," "Stoch Fest," "Esfuerzato"- was chosen and made relevant by an International Committee headed by Miss Gudrun Diestel of Germany. The program was developed as a housewife from Egypt, a social worker from Guyana, a church worker from the Philippines, and a woman from the U.S.A. discovered a common bond of worship and witness.

The challenge of the '70's across the continents is to bear witness to one's convictions when morals and decadence are at a premium. In India, Kenya, or the U.S.A. it takes courage to be open to the unknown in the '70's, which are bringing so many changes to families the world over. World Day of Prayer will be reflecting courage for responsible action.

World Day of Prayer also provides an occasion for participation in a nationwide offering committed to helping others "take courage". This year's emphases are: new religious education materials for Latin Americans and Spanish-speaking families in this country; support of a secretary for Women's Work of the Near East Christian Council; the dispossessed Spanish migrant and Indian American communities. These are part of an Intercontinental Mission, a fund through which Church Women United expresses its concern for others in concrete terms including grants for Christian literature on six continents and grants to Christian colleges in Asia and Africa.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

THE AERIAL SPRAYING OF "SAFE PESTICIDES"

According to an item in North Dakota Outdoors for July, 1969 (Vol. 32, No. 1:7), Grand Forks, North Dakota, was the scene of a tragedy for birds in late May. An unknown number estimated to be 5,000, and likely many more, were found dead after low-lying areas of the city were treated for mosquito control.

The first dead birds were reported on the afternoon of May 23. That morning a helicopter, under contract to the city, applied a chemical called Baytex, supposedly "safe" for this type of use on about 1500 acres. Thirty-seven bird species were turned over to the Northern Prairie Wildlife Research Center. Some were sent to Colorado State University where it has been determined that Baytex was the apparent cause of death.

Why was Baytex declared safe for this use? And why was it used in Mattapoisett after the Grand Forks fiasco? The answer is obvious - the evidence of the killing properties of DDT began to pile up!...man, himself, began to build up in his body small traces of DDT, a great concern was that DDT in milk from nursing mothers was often greater than the "safe" level of supermarket milk. Further the pesticide was showing up in very unlikely places; the flesh of isolated savage tribes, arctic penguins, seals, and in the flesh of fish taken hundreds of miles out at sea. Yes, a substitute for DDT was in order.

A report of the Department of the Interior lists some of these substitutes as up to 50 times as toxic as DDT. In other words, although we have mountains of evidence of the killing properties of DDT because we have been using it the longest, it is none the less far less toxic than the newer poisons of which we as yet know almost nothing.

No specific chemical tests exist for their identification, some others can only be tested in a few laboratories in the country. More important those whose breakdown or conversion products have been found often proved to be more toxic than the parent residue.

Once in a while, an unfortunate incident with these miracle new pesticides breaks out in print; an adult man spills a little of a 25 percent solution of an insecticide on his skin and dies in forty minutes, a carload of carrots is seized containing large amounts of lethal spray; a few shipments of milk are dumped into the river; a plane pilot spraying a small Minnesota town for mosquitoes gets his cans mixed and accidentally uses parathion; safe for crops, and the town had to be evacuated, birds die in North Dakota and Mattapoisett after aerial spray. In each such report, however, some impressive authority is quoted in the second to last paragraph, assuring the people that all is well; everything is in hand; the threat of pesticides is insignificant.

Now, I am a realist. Our increasing population coupled with our desire for unblemished fruits and vegetables has placed us on the "horns of a dilemma". We will not watch our croplands depleted by hordes of insects. Therefore, the Department of Agriculture will continue to wage the battle (more and more, a chemical one) of an exploding species, man against his environment.

However, the continuing abuse of the environment for a few hours on a mosquito free lawn becomes a serious issue. Ignorance is no longer bliss when competent scientists whose writings no longer appear in isolated journals but in popular magazines have warned of the fish slaughters and the bird and wildlife kills from pesticides; pheasants, quail and mallards at Patuxent, Maryland; ducks, bald eagles, geese, pelicans on the Tule Lake Wildlife Refuge in California; mule deer in Montana, Colorado and New Mexico; shrimp, crabs and mollusks along the coasts; doves, pigeons, foxes, badgers in the prairie states; salmon, hawks in Maine; and the osprey in Massachusetts and Connecticut. The evidence of slaughters and sometimes, elimination of species is overwhelming.

A solution to the problem might evolve from an analysis of the following two questions: Are there fewer mosquitoes in Mattapoisett now than there were 10, 20 or even 50 years ago? Confronted with the foregoing evidence on the dangers of pesticides, should Mattapoisett be a test area for the aerial application of another "safe" pesticide?

The Conservation Commission of Mattapoisett asks for your support in defeating the town article that appropriates $2500.00 for aerial spraying in Mattapoisett.

Tuesday, July 14th - Well, we finished the last of our whale last night and cleaned up the decks this morning. Scrubbed them all down and was just putting away the last piece of tackle when whales were sighted again. We are now chasing them. They are 3 or 4 miles off. Passenger steamer passed us to-day. Lowered for whale, did not get fast. Had some kind of a potato pie for dinner. All the time I was eating it I was thinking of Mother's meat and potato pies. Saw two water spouts this

P.M. One was very plain.

Wednesday, July 15th - Wonderful sunrise came up, bleeding red, turned to orange, then to gold, deep purple sky. Dead calm. Lowered for whale about 5:15. Got fast. Whale hit boat 4 or 5 times, then stove us very bad. Broke several ribs and opened up keel about 4 or 5 inches. We lashed our mast and oars across the gunnels to stop us from capsizing. Then bailed out as fast as we could but the water came in faster. Sat in boat holding on to buckets, oars, paddles, etc. until John R. Manta picked us up. Fortunately a breeze came up so they could sail to us. Captain signaled the other boat to cut loose and came after us. But they held on to their whale. We got aboard and they didn't even give us a cup of coffee to take the chill off. Two of the boys didn't even get a chance to change their clothes. We then got the extra boat ready and lowered again to get our whale which we had tied a drag to.

So, both boats got a whale this time. That's 19. After we got them aboard it came up very rough. We drifted over into the Gulf Stream. Had to put all the blubber in the hole. Five and Forty more. Some days are so full that one could write a whole book about it. I can hardly sneak a few minutes to write what I do.

Thursday, July 16th - Oh! I bet this day is a scorcher ashore. I bet there will be tons of ice cream sold and barrels of soda. It's sweltering here before seven A.M. The ship is rolling crazily from side to side. Cook fell down and struck his head and it dazed him. Boat steerer went to help him up and got a bawling out for it. Officers said, "It'll wake him up." Hot, boiling, greasy soup and canned cabbage for lunch on a sweltering day like this. Made resolution that I would not pick my fingers any more. I just got them so they all looked good and were all healed up. Then the other night I got nervous and pulled them all down again. Now they're all bleeding sores. I'm going to try hard to break this habit. Two steamers passed us close. I don't see how I've ever stood this trip. When I look ahead I don't feel as if I can stand it, but the days are going past.

Friday, July 17th - Electric storm last night, rough and rain to-day. Hope it's August weather starting. For as soon as it starts we go home. Passenger steamer. Finished our whale to-day. I suppose we'll get some more to-morrow. Whale were sighted several times to-day. My back is just about broke.

Saturday, July 18th - Cold, threatening weather. Hope it's August coming in. Sighted whale about 9 o'clock. Lowered at 11:00. Got fast and just as we did our gaff broke but we held the whale. It took a full tub of line. After we had fought it, and it was almost dead, our line parted and we lost our whale. We rowed and sailed after it but could not find it. Heave and slip. Five and Forty more. Whales sighted just as we got the falls put away. Got our supper right away and expect to

Sunday, July 19th - What a wonderful Sunday. Whales sighted at sunrise. Hoist and swing at 7:20. Boats are now about 4 miles away, chasing whales. Thank God I am not with them. My side has been bothering me quite bad and I can't pull much on it. So at last the mate has made a change. I had all I wanted of it anyway. I am now a shipkeeper. I have a nice view of the boats from the ship. This gives me a chance to see both sides of the game. Steward caught over 2 dozen dolphin this morning in about 10 minutes. Oh, how I would like to be ashore this morning. Well, only one more Sunday in this month. There can't be many more Sundays left. I count every hour. Well, the boats are back with a whale apiece. That's 22. While they were out I didn't have anything to do for 2 hours. What a relief to get away from that mate. Brown took my place and Dean took his. Heave and slip. 5 and 40 more. We got 3 whole whale on deck now. Lopes said the nearest land is Jacksonville, Florida. We are supposed to be right off Chesapeake Bay. This has been a good day for me. I wasn't called down once. We now have 26 casks of oil besides what's in the tanks and these whales on deck.

Monday, July 20th - We are having grand weather out here. Whales playing all around ship. But I do not think we will lower until we get rid of some of these we have. After all the fish the steward caught yesterday we didn't get any this morning for breakfast. Cracker hash, bread, corn meal. Both boats lowered and each got a whale. Lopes used the bomb gun and it kicked and hurt his arm and tore his shirt. He's acting like a child about it. Heave and slip. When they are cutting in, it throws a red tinge over everything. 5 and 40 more.

Tuesday, July 21st - I can count all the days of this month on my fingers now. Heard that the Captain would not stay out here in August at all. Started roughing up this afternoon. It is now about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. I have just been up on deck. It is much rougher, the sea is breaking over the bows and we have wet bunks again. Lightning in the distance and coming up black. Heard we were 700 miles from New Bedford. Hope this kind of weather keeps up. It's about time it started. I am soaked to skin with oil and

TOWN OF MATTAPOISETT, MASSACHUSETTS
MATTAPOISETT PLANNING BOARD
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held for proposed changes in the Zoning By-Laws on March 17, 1970, at 7:30 P.M. at the Mattapoisett Town Hall. The proposed changes, as submitted to the Planning Board by a special committee appointed by the Board of Selectmen are:

1. To change the present zoning by-law and zoning map of the Town of Mattapoisett, which map is dated November 1, 1967, and prepared for the Mattapoisett Zoning Board by Arthur C. Thompson, Engineer and Surveyor, Marion, Massachusetts, by making the following zoning district changes:

a. To change the following described area which is now partly Rural Residence (RR15) and partly Limited Industry (LI) to Limited Industry (LI) throughout:

Beginning at a point in the south line of Railroad Avenue which point is approximately 1200 feet east of the intersection of the south line of Railroad Avenue with the east line of North Street and which point therein is the point of intersection of the westerly line of the zoning district hereby changed and the easterly line of the zoning district shown on said map as Residence (R20).
Thence southerly along the easterly line of said Residence (R20) zoning district;
Thence easterly in said line and thence again southerly in said line to a point;
Thence northeasterly in a line running parallel to the southerly line of Railroad Avenue and 1600 feet distant therefrom a distance of approximately 5500 feet to a point in the Town Line between Mattapoisett and Marion;
Thence northerly along the Town Line between Marion and Mattapoisett to the point of intersection of said Town Line and the south line of Railroad Avenue;
Thence southwesterly in the southerly line of Railroad Avenue approximately 6250 feet to the point of beginning.

b. To change the following described area from Limited Industry (LI) to General Business (GB).

Beginning at a point in the northerly line of County Street otherwise called Marion Road, which point is the southeasterly corner of an existing Special Business District and which point is approximately due north of the intersection of Church Street with said County Street;
Thence running northerly along the easterly boundary of said existing Special Business District to a point;
Thence running southeasterly in a curved line which is the northerly line of said Special Business District extended southeasterly and which line has the same radius as said curved north line of said Special Business District to a Point in the westerly line of the existing Rural Residence District;
Thence southerly in said westerly line of said Rural Residence District to a point;
Thence southwesterly in the line of said Rural Residence District to a point in the easterly line of County Street;
Thence northwesterly in the northerly line of said County Street to the point of beginning. Said described area shall hereafter be a General Business (GB) District.

c. To change the remainder of the area heretofore zoned as Limited Industry (LI) and shown on said 1967 zoning map as Limited Industry (LI) and lying between the areas described in paragraphs "a" and "b" above, from Limited Industry (LI) to Rural Residence.

2. To amend the present zoning by-law by adding to Section V--Use Regulations A.7 - the following words at the end thereof: "and hospital, sanitarium, convalescent home or medical clinic."

3. To amend the present zoning by-law by changing Section III--General Regulations A. Non-conforming Uses 1 by eliminating therefrom the following words: "provided such building is not enlarged more than 50 percent in volume and is not altered structurally during its lifetime to an extent exceeding 50 percent of its assessed value.

4. To amend the present zoning by-law by changing Section III--General Regulations D. Screening, 1a, by eliminating therefrom the following words in the fourth line thereof: "that in Residential Districts and . . ."

5. To amend the present zoning by-law by changing Section VI--Density Regulations B by eliminating from the table of requirements after paragraph B, the entire column headed "Set-Back Rear" and the vertical column of figures thereunder and by changing the title of the column entitled "Set-Back Side" so as to make the said title read "Set-Back Side and Rear."

6. To amend the present zoning by-law by changing Section II--Definitions E (line three) by eliminating the word "three" and by inserting in its place the word "two".

stink. Only changed my clothes a day or so ago. No use changing again as they would be dirty almost as soon as I hit the deck. And to think some of these fellows are wearing the same clothes they came aboard in and never wash up. Another back aching day from morning 'til night. Here comes the rain. The boys are coming below for their oil skins.

YWCA NEWS

Mrs. William R. Sawyer, dean of students at New Bedford High School, will be the guest speaker for the Wednesday Luncheon at 12:15 March 11th. Mrs. Sawyer will discuss teacher-student relationships on the high school level. Social programs at school and personal problems of both boys and girls are the responsibility of Mrs. Sawyer, and the public is invited to come to the Y for lunch and the informal meeting in the dining room.

Women interested in attending Tailoring Aids on Friday from 1 to 3 P.M. should call the Y at once. Mrs. Louise Freeman from Bristol County Extension Service is well-known in the area, and will present many new ideas.

The Travel Club is taking reservations for the Flower Show in Revere and also is making plans for the one-day trip to New York City on April 4th. Interested members and guests should contact the YWCA.

---

An opportunity to share hobbies is open to anyone interested on Wednesday afternoons. On Thursdays all women who play bridge and are members of the Y are invited to come and have fun and join other women who may have come alone. From 1 to 3 P.M. bridge skills may be improved by playing, without an instructor. Coffee is available.
